RainCrowd Releases 4th Single For 2021

For Immediate Release
September 26, 2021
Linden, NJ

NJ-based indie rock alternative band, RainCrowd, announces the release of their new upcoming single entitled, "Leak In Her Heart".

The band's fourth single for the year was written by frontman and bassist, Chot Ulep, back in 2001 in Los Angeles and was previously demoed to industry contacts but was shelved for years.

When Ulep asked the band for a next single this year, Nico Capistrano, guitarist and sound engineer, suggested that they record the long-forgotten song citing its hook, which he thinks, has a good riff.

The song starts with a broken glass audio then introduces the acoustic riff as a contrast to the effect.

The release date for "Leak In Her Heart" is scheduled on September 30, 2021 and will be available at major music streaming platforms.
